Houston, TX, August 26, 2010. AHFC would like to thank John Deely, UCONN Men's Assistant Soccer Coach and Jeff Negalha, UNC Chapel Hill Men's Assistant Soccer Coach for the opportunity for our players to be trained by some of the best college coaches in the country. UNCONN and UNC Chapel Hill are two (2) of the most prestigious soccer program in the United States.

The parents and players were very appreciative to have these coaches in town to train AHFC U15-U18 PLW and Division 1 boys' teams.

"I enjoyed my time with Albion Hurricanes FC' said Jeff Negalha, UNC Chapel Hill Men's Soccer Assistant Coach. "The staff is first class, organize, and very knowledgeable of the game and the youth development process. The campers were very respectful and extremely engaged and competitive during the sessions."

John Deeley, UCONN Men's Soccer Assistant Coach add, "I want to thank Tony Johnson and AHFC club for having me down to Houston for two days of training with a number of their teams. The level of play was very good and the facilities were excellent. The future looks bright for the club. I really enjoyed my trip and I wish the club the best for the upcoming year."

AHFC is actively looking to expand upon their collegiate preseason camps for both the boys and the girls program.

ABOUT AHFC
